

RSVP – Retired and Senior Volunteer Programs

RSVP is a program specially designed for seniors over the age of 55. With this program, there is a huge variety of volunteer positions available for you. You choose the hours you will put in, where you will serve as a volunteer, and the type of work you will do. You will successfully join over 500,000 senior citizens across the United States that currently volunteer with RSVP.

Why Become An RSVP Member When You Already Volunteer?

When you volunteer through RSVP programs, you receive additional, awarding benefits. The benefits are designed to serve you as an individual. For example, if you previously worked a 9 to 5 job, and are in the habit of working those hours, RSVP will work with your individual needs. On the other hand, if you have not been working and have recently felt like you have become lazy, or have nothing to do, RSVP will assist you so that you can easily get back into the routine of becoming an active member of society again. This in return will be very beneficial for your health.

Requirements

There are simply no requirements to becoming an RSVP volunteer. You may be a current volunteer looking for a new, exciting position. Additionally, you may be a lonely senior looking for some excitement in your life. Either way you look at it, RSVP volunteering is the perfect choice.

Where do RSVP volunteers serve?

If you are over the age of 55 and are looking to volunteer some time, you might find it useful to contact the RSVP to volunteer your time. With RSVP, you are part of the largest network that has individuals over the age of 55 volunteering their time. With more than 500,000 volunteers across the United States, there is a community who benefits from the use of these individuals.

What is RSVP and What does it do?

RSVP is a group of volunteers who are over the age of 55 and they serve a number of communities across the globe. These organizations that use the individuals over the age of 55 will either use the individual locally or will have them serve nationally. You are in charge of where you want to serve and how you want to serve the organization. No one will force you to spend your time on any given organization and if you find that you have given your time but are becoming too tired, then you will be able to cut your hours back where need be.

What do I get with RSVP?

When you are working with the RSVP group, you will receive pre-service orientation as well as training. The training will allow you to learn what you need to know for working with the area that you are giving your time to. You will also receive insurance for the time that you are on duty working for the organization as well. This makes it so that if you become injured while volunteering that you have something to collect from for as long as you need it or for as long as your benefits are there. Once you exceed the amount of money set forward with the insurance company, you will become responsible for those bills.

What to keep in mind when volunteering with RSVP.

What you will want to make sure that you keep in mind when donating your time to the RSVP organization is that you are not only helping someone who is needy but you are also helping yourself. By keeping yourself busy and by keeping yourself occupied, you will have less time on your hands to sit and think about things that typically bother you once you have reached a certain age. Not only that but you are then discovering a whole new world of possibilities that you did not have prior to volunteering your time to RSVP.
